A BRIEF MISSIVE UNTO HER WELL-LOVED SUBJECTS FROM THEIR SOVEREIGN, QUEEN ELIZABETH

Dear Subjects,

Many long and weary months have passed since last we met in Sterling's peaceful groves. We have spent the time profitably negotiating with our fellow Princes on the continent, and return to ye with a treaty that will ensure England's peace and prosperity. How loathe we were to leave the shores of our beloved land, and how grateful we are to return! What better place for this return than Sterling, whose people with their kind hearts, winsome manner and frolicsome spirits have always been so dear to us?

However, we must not become complacent. We fear the Duke of Norfolk has become over-fond of the power he was granted in our absence. Today may be the day he casts his hazard for the crown, and we charge all loyal Englishmen to resist the siren song of his importuning.

Outface the would-be usurper as we shall, with laughter and merriment. Sing with lusty voices and dance with light feet—cavort, gambol and frolic in defiance of Norfolk's dour threat! Be bold, be brave, be Englishmen all! And proud shall I be to name myself thy humble sovereign.

Who Wants to be a Monarch?

Written By: Ann Alford, Don Kilcoyne, Dan O'Driscoll
Directed by: Kelley McKinnon, Don Kilcoyne, Kelly Kilcoyne

The Royal entourage has arrived at Sterling anticipating a reunion with Queen Elizabeth, who has been abroad negotiating a treaty with the French. Word comes through Thomas Howard, Duke of Norfolk and Regent to the throne, that the Queen's ship foundered and Elizabeth is lost. Through this rumor proves false, her Majesty is not yet out of danger. Behind Norfolk's smiles and vows lies great ambition. There are those that agree with his conviction that England has grown soft under a woman's rule and will stop at nothing to change the regime. Elizabeth must go into hiding to save her life, finding protection in the midst of outlaws and thieves. Will she be able to stay alive long enough to wrest power back from the treacherous Duke?

Tales of Robin Hood

Written By Don Kilcoyne, Ann Alford, Dan O'Driscoll
Directed by Don Kilcoyne, Kelley McKinnon, Kelly Kilcoyne

The past year in Sterling has been quiet...thanks, no doubt to the demise of the treacherous Sheriff. Sir Robert of Locksley returns, his wife Marian at his side, to assist the Mayor Will Scarlet in welcoming the Queen (as well as the Merry Band) to the Shire. The peace is about to be shattered. There is a new Sheriff in town, and he wishes nothing more than to make a name for himself as the man who bested Robin Hood. Declared 'outlaws' once more, Robin and the band find themselves fighting to save their lives and the fate of the realm.

Faire Favorites and Performers Most Memorable

Specialty & Variety Acts

Mawster Englebert Humpp's Turtle Racing - Turtle Drome Stage

For little children and adult out-patients. The twilight zone of the Renaissance.

The Dextre Tripp Thrill Show - Pageant Wagon Stage

This "mid-air madman" defies serious injury from an assortment of perilous positions: atop an eight-foot free-standing ladder, on a pile of precariously stacked chairs and teetering in a chair on a rope high above the crowd. Be sure to catch him, in a manner of speaking.

Magical Mystical Michael - Silver Swan Stage

This cagy conjurer with a "slight attitude" returns to baffle, bewilder, deceive and delight.

Stewart and Arnold: Son and Father Knifethrowers - Silver Swan Stage

Blood is thicker than water, but can it withstand steel? Find out when these devil-may-care kin explore the sticking points of familial trust.

Brother Donald the Storyteller - Storyteller's Tree: continuous storytelling

Timeless tales told in the classic tradition by this robust, mesmerizing performer.

Belly Dancers - Rogues Gallery

Arnold the Village Juggler - Roselawn Field

Favored Shows

Trial and Punishment - Directed by Don Kilcoyne - Pageant Wagon Stage

Scofflaws and mischief-makers beware! Flout the laws of the Shire of Sterling at thine own risk, for thou wilt be brought to Justice! And what lunatic justice it is: ancient laws get rewritten on a whim in this madcap sham tribunal. The dunderheaded digit of destiny exposes the guilty and innocent alike in the freewheeling, completely chaotic Trial and Punishment.

Cast: The Villagers of Sterling

Crimson Pirates - Rogues Gallery

A talented group of singer/musicians that perform a myriad of musical styles. Their lively arrangements of sea chanteys and drinking songs serve to illustrate tales of lost ships, lost love and spilt beer. With their irreverent humor and musical panache - they delight pirates of all ages!

Ragged Tales - Written by Don Kilcoyne and Matty O'Shea; Directed by Don Kilcoyne - Fairy Kingdom

Little Ragged Hood? Goldie Sox and the Three Pairs?? The Rag Prince?? What the.....???????

Cast: Melissa Arleth, Matty O'Shea

The Peasant Dating Game - Written by Chant Macleod; Directed by Janet Droll

The only show in the Shire where thou art the prize!

Kid's Kingdom Activities

The Fairy Kingdom: Come to where the Fairies play and join in the fantastical fun in a land of whimsy!

Ragged Tales of Sterling: Join the ragselling sisters as they take you on a romp through and around some of our most beloved Fairies.

Times: Noon, 2:30, 4:30

Fitzwalter Farms Petting Zoo: Come and meet Maid Marian's farm animals. Times: Continuous

Wee-People Livery: Pony Rides for children. Times: Continuous

Throughout the Faire:

Storytelling by Brother Donald: Gather 'round to hear one of the foremost storytellers in the country as he weaves his timeless classic tales. Performing continuously in the Storyteller Corner, from 12:30 - 4:00

The Maypole/Peasant Dances: Join in this celebratory dance with the peasants of the Shire. Children of all ages welcome. Maypole Meadow - 11:30, 2:00, 5:00

Join Robin Hood's Band: Robin Hood seeks youths with courage, compassion, and cunning to join his Merry Band and help him foil the Sheriff's wicked ways. Tudor Rose Stage - 4:00

The Knighting Ceremony: Queen Elizabeth is looking for a few good lads and lasses to help defend the realm! Immediately following the Chess Game. Chess Board - 5:00

Celebration Parade: See all of your favorite characters and new exotic people in this inspiring promenade. Starting at Roselawn Field - 3:45

Rides: Hop aboard the DRAGON SWING or the BEDLAM BARREL, try to find your way through the GIANT MAZE, or take a spin in the CROW'S NEST or on the human-powered CAROUSEL.

Games galore: Test your talents at any of the Squires Pendragon games of skill: Archery, Knife, Axe & Star Throws, Test O' Strength, Dragon Slayer, Dart Toss, Push Penny, Jack's Giant Toss, Leapin' Lizards, Nyne Pins, Chinese Crossbows, Sheepchukkers, Bean Bag Toss, or Javeling Throw. Open all day.

Fees charged for all rides and games.
